SPECIAL LECTURE

Title : "Mr. Tsukiji: John Bingham,
America's Longest-serving Chief of Mission to Japan"

Arriving in Japan in 1873 America's senior diplomat, political Oomono John Bingham immediately began moving the Legation and his residence to Tsukiji, He then, worked to revise the unequal treaties and returned America's portion of the Shimonoseki Indemnity. When he left in 1885 he had become the longest serving chief of mission and the most important, but too often neglected, American figure of the early Meiji years.
